Biodiversity / Nature

Connect with others focusing on this topic

Join the Restore Nature Now Telegram chat along with others working on this theme, not all of which are in XR, or there's the XR Rewilding Facebook group.

Action Ideas

Birdsong

Birdsong was once everywhere. Now often hard to hear, bring some birdsong to your action by getting lots of people to download the sound files to their phones and all play together at a re-arranged time.

Info and downloads collated for Restore Nature Now action in London, but available to use when and where you want.

Blue Plaques for Nature

Based on the iconic English Heritage blue plaques designed to commemorate a noteble person, these plaques designed by the 'Dirty Water' campaign team are to commemorate nature and wildlife.

See full details of how to print, modify and produce these plaques here.

Visiting a garden centre dressed as bees

This Local Group visited their local garden centre dressed as bees to raise awareness of the disastrous consequences to wildlife of gardeners and farmers using glysophate (often sold as Round Up).

This outreach focused action did not disrupt shoppers, but encouraged them to think more sustainably when shopping, and raised awareness of the scale of the problems to biodiversity being caused by widespread pesticide use.

Parliament of Owls

These paper owls look beautiful in a flock and have been made for The Big One (2023) and Restore Nature Now (2024).

They are relatively easy to make as the templates and instructions can be downloaded here. This makes a good group art activity as it is accessible to everyone!

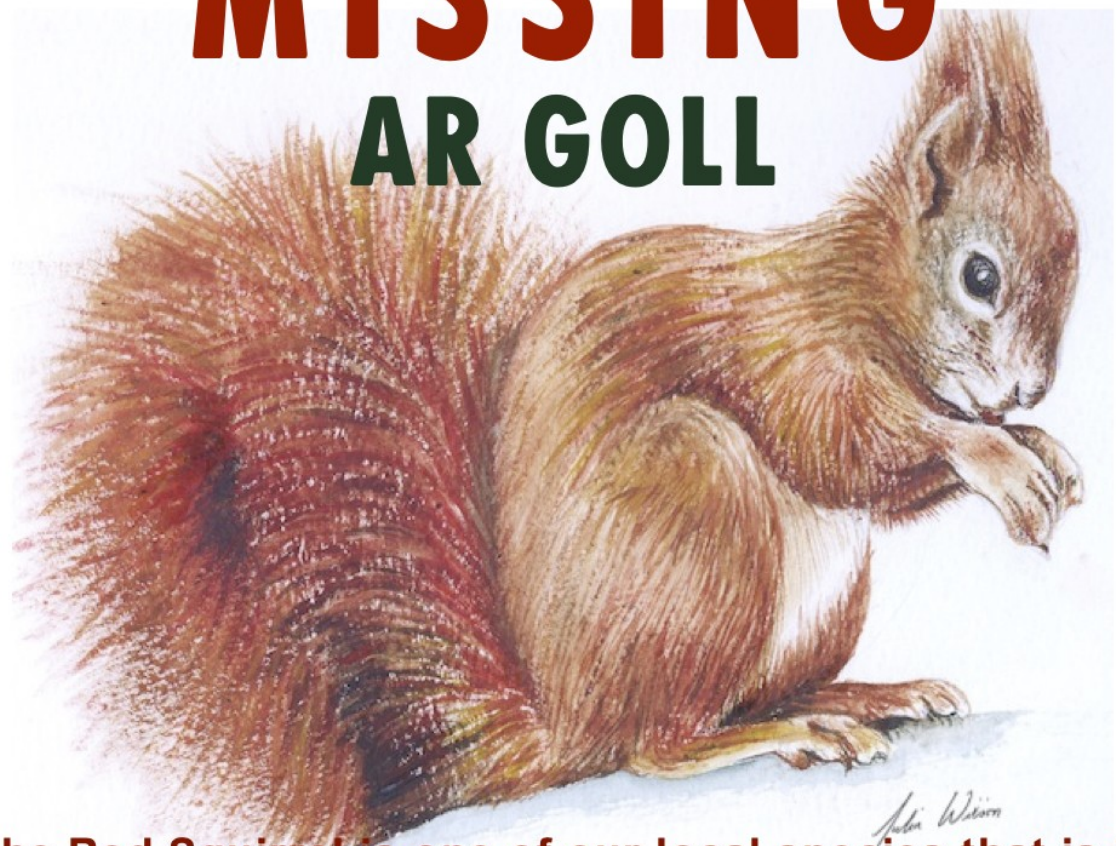

Bird Skeletons

Check out this brief on how to make bird skeletons for actions.

Outreach Materials

Bilingual Posters- Welsh

MISSING
AR GOLL

The Red Squirrel is one of our local species that is in decline. Humans introduced non-native grey squirrels in the 1870s and they now outnumber red squirrels by approximately 66-1. The presence of greys, habitat destruction and fragmentation by Man, often means reds do not have enough to eat.(reds need broad leafed trees). Disease (pox from grey squirrels), is another cause for their decline.

Mae'n wiwer goch yn un o'n rhywogaethau lleol sy'n dirywio. Cyflwynodd pobl wiwerod llwyd anfrodorol yn yr 1870au ac maent bellach yn fwy niferus na gwiwerod coch gan oddeutu 66-1. Mae presenoldeb y llwydion yn aml yn golygu nad oes gan y cochion ddigon i'w fwyta. Mae dinistrio a darnio cynefinoedd (mae angen coed dail llydan ar y cochion), yn ogystal â chlefyd (brech o'r wiwer lwyd), yn achosion eraill dros eu dirywiad extinction rebellion

These bilingual biodiversity posters are available for red squirrels, pine martens, hedgehogs and water voles.