

What Next?

After holding a community assembly, it is really important to think about what next? What will be done with the ideas and information discussed? This takes you to community organising. To learn about different ways to organise as a community, about the different tools in existence and about what others around the world have done, check out the Community Organising module.

Extinction Rebellion Local Groups can use the recommendations from Community Assemblies to start a local campaign and/or pressure local politicians. For more information, see the Community Assembly Local Group Pack.
