Climate Dildo by Rainbow Rebellion

Rainbow Rebellion created a giant papier mache climate dildo.

It is fully transportable and on wheels, so it can be moved around a protest very easily. We know that climate wrecking companies are trying to sponsor and involve themselves in LGBTQIA+ events such as Pride In London and the LGBT Awards. We also know that marginalised communities (including the LGBTQIA+ community) will be hit harder by climate breakdown, and may face increased marginalisation by political moves to the right.

This prop is perfect for actions where you might need a bit of playful humour. If you are near London, you could contact the Arts Factory to borrow this prop or make your own version.
