Climate Theatre Show

Make your own theatre production with puppets or the children as actors. This could involve climate ‘villains’ and some interactive elements where the audience have to make choices to influence the play. The scale of this is up to you - this could be something small you could organise inside a climate wrecking project with a small kids theatre set or a BIG production with lots of planning, costumes and rehearsals.

