Fake Newspapers

This is a perfect example of how you can do a creative action with very simple props, such as chairs and tables.

Inspired by Suella Braverman’s outburst about the “Guardian reading, tofu eating wokerati” Animal Rising took this action in Trafalgar Square in London. This location meant a risk of arrest, but in general, this is a low spice action.

Here are some design ideas for newspapers for an action, we printed them off and glued them to large folded white card to look like a broadsheet.

Examples from the Dirty Water Campaign

DAILY DISCHARGE

THAMES WATER BOSS SHOCK RESIGNATION

Thriving in the age of distractions

People prefer celebrity tittle tattle, conspiracy, culture wars and short term gain, to facing tricky long term questions. As cake mentioned more times than climate change by off-shore billionaire owned media. DON'T LOOK UP!!!

FAECAL TIMES

Deep Impact
Business world sizes up risks and trends for 2023

One to watch: Shell rolls back net zero commitments, amidst record breaking profits and dividends.

Next big gold rush
In unproven carbon capture technology while profits soar and runaway climate change sets in

Water bills set to increase by 40% in government plan to make public pay for corporate mismanagement

A docile population snoozes while a cabinet of millionaires hatches cunning plan to hike bills in order to cover their poor governance and shortsighted bad decision making. Meanwhile protest is made illegal and no one notices, in major coup for overall government control. Combined with electoral reform, withdrawing legal aid, banning jurys in cases for protesters and increasing powers of police, corporations and private security. With a rigged political system and a compliant media, the rich are set to get richer and it no one can stop them.

UK utilities a no brainier for foreign pension funds, as profits soar due to lack of investment in upgrades. Consistently delivering dividends.

Canadian pension fund and Middle Eastern financiers asset strip UK infrastructure. While other countries pay nothing for well run water systems. Vulture capitalism goes from strength to strength in the UK. Investors eye UK property as the next big feeding frenzy opens up due to inflation, interest rates and repossessions. One to watch as the rich get richer while nature and people pay the price in age old status quo.

Investors delighted as tax payer set to bail out too big to fail water company.

Global finance summit kicks off. Key note speaker says "Living in a bubble is soo much fun. We deserve all the money because we are smarter than you. You are lucky to have us running the show. We are preparing our private islands and armies. Who needs water anyway? Intergalactic rivers and extraordinary large profits are far more interesting than thriving ecosystems. We CAN eat money, stuff the rest of you, if you play ball we may throw you some crumbs"

THE Bog

Water Exec's Sick Bonus Haul

BUMPER BONUS BONANZA !!!!!!!

Cynical Bosses Cyphon Profits amid hosepipe bans , record-breaking leaks and shock river discharges. Maggie Thatchers legacy in tatters as British public sold down the swanny by lax regulation of greedy , profit driven utilities. These foreign owned companies rip off British tax payers and pay top execs fat bonuses while debts pile up in too-big-to-fail water companies.

Apparently BY MIKE BARFIELD