The World We Want | Resources and Further Information

The World We Want talk is an antidote to the doom and gloom that many of us feel about the climate and ecological emergency, and the terrifying reality of natural disasters we either experience or watch live on the news. The talk shows you that a world worth living in is possible and provide you with tangible actions you can start taking today to make that world a reality.

To join The World We Want online talk or if you were inspired by the talk and you would like to become a speaker, register for either HERE. Tell your friends and family about the talk and encourage them to join one!

Support

If you or anyone you know, would like to support the development and delivery of our talks, please donate here. Thank you in advance.

Summary

Below is a brief reminder of the key parts of the talk, links to further resources and links shared in the Zoom chat during the talk.

- We started by inviting you to imagine what kind of world you want.
- We looked at what kind of world we have now and then explored how possible it is to bridge the gap between the two.
- We looked at how ordinary people can make change and showed how this has been done in the past.

Takeaway Messages

- This is an emergency!
- There is a desirable world to be won - but the promise of that world currently hangs in the balance.
- We can all contribute to making it a reality.

Resources

The talk has been thoroughly fact-checked; you can see our sources and read more on any topic in this Evidence and Further Reading document.

Next Steps

- Join or find out more about Extinction Rebellion:
  - 'Intro to XR' talk and 'Get Involved' session
- National Emergency Briefing:
  - Watch the short Peoples' Emergency Briefing films, call for a televised screening, find out how to host a screening, print Community Building zines and more here.
- Find out more about Doughnut Economics.
- Join or find out more about other environmental groups: there are so many! We suggest doing an online search to find the right one for you, but here are a few to get you started:
  - Insure our Future global network: a campaign pressuring the insurance industry to stop insuring new oil and gas - engaging students in the UK.
  - Wildlife & Countryside Link: bringing together their members on issues of common concern and to present a clear, consistent message to Government, opinion leaders and the general public.
  - United for Climate Justice: a platform of several climate and social justice movements, established in 2023.
- Join or find out more about assemblies and other pro-democracy groups:
  - Extinction Rebellion Assemblies
  - Extinction Rebellion Citizens' Assembly
  - Humanity Project UK
  - Assemble and their House of the People campaign

Useful Links

Some of you may have found out about this talk via the Rebellion Broadcast on Telegram. It is a vital space for staying up-to-date with what’s happening across the UK for Extinction Rebellion and allies.

- Join the Rebellion Broadcast on Telegram

Extinction Rebellion Actions and Events
The Actions Map is useful for finding in-person actions and events near you and the Events Calendar shows both in-person and online actions and events, like The World We Want talk!

- Map View
- Calendar View

- Watch a recording of The World We Want talk.

If you have questions or need further support, email volunteer@extinctionrebellion.uk

---