

The long, hot weekend : 12th & 13th September

Join for XRUK's long hot weekend in London!

On Saturday and Sunday, 12 - 13 September, at a fantastic venue (tba) we will have two days of conversation, outreach, creative thinking and practical preparation for our Day of Action on Monday 14 September.

Why should I join?

You probably know about the National Emergency Briefing (NEB) but have you read the National Security Assessment (NSA)? Covering the security risks to the UK associated with biodiversity loss and ecosystem collapse, this severely abridged version of the document was published by the government, in January this year, only after a Freedom of Information request.

The NSA highlights serious threats to UK Security, including biodiversity loss, flooding, drought, food shortages, extreme heat, mass migration and all the other profound affects of climate change. These events are a danger to us all - We are all in the same soup and it's coming to the boil!

This September we mobilise: rebels, old and new, re-engage with our natural allies and reach out to the public at large to join us in our demands - that the government Tell the Truth by issuing and publicising the full, unredacted NSA and to Act Now to mitigate against the serious threats to UK security reported within. We must Decide Together how best to approach our first two demands.
