

Troll Patrol - social media

Commenting on social media requires patience and emotional control. You are not just replying to the person you are responding to. You should always keep in mind all the other people who are watching and learning from the interaction.

It is an opportunity to bring education to everyone reading.

Lots of guidance on how to do this is on the pages here called Online Outreach - Troll Patrol.
