Accessing the Tools Using a Smartphone or Tablet

Lots of rebels do not have access to a computer and instead rely on a smartphone or tablet to do their XR work. While the tools are designed primarily for use with a computer, they can also be accessed on a mobile device either by downloading an app or by using an ordinary web browser.

This guide aims to explain:

- How to access the tools using an app (if one exists), or the device's web browser
- Any key differences between the mobile and the desktop versions of the tools

The guide assumes that you are using either an Apple or Android device. If you are not, then you are unlikely to have an app that you can download, but the browser approach should still work.

Note: Before following the steps below, you must already have an account set up on the Hub. To do this, please follow the steps outlined in this guide.

Mattermost

Note: For a detailed explanation on how to use Mattermost, please read this guide.

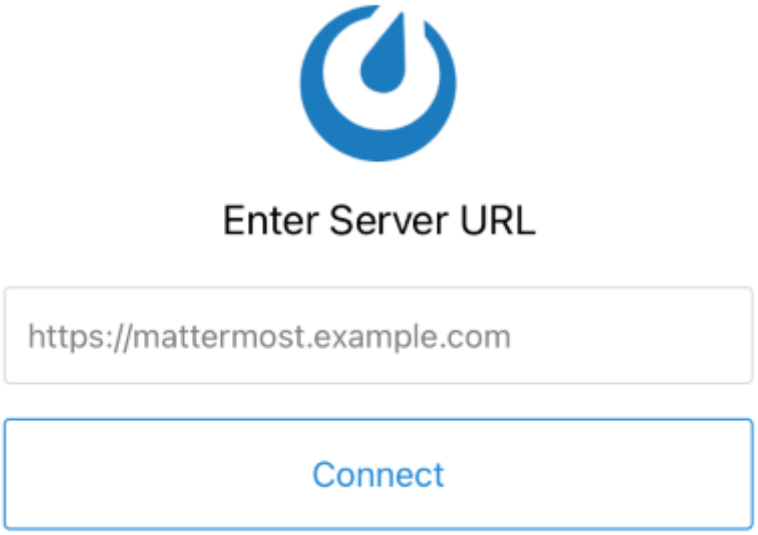

App

Note: A common mistake rebels make is to assume that all they need to do to "get on Mattermost" is to download the app. To access via the app see the instructions below, but if you would rather not download the app, read this guide. Mattermost will work perfectly well in your device's browser.

To access Mattermost via the app:

1. First, install Mattermost from either the Google Play Store or the Apple App Store.

   Please see this video for a guide to doing this.
2. Open the app. You will see a screen that looks like this:

3. Enter `https://organise.earth` and click Connect
4. On the following screen, enter your username and password and click Sign in

1. Navigate to `https://organise.earth` by entering it into the URL bar
2. Enter your username and password and click Sign in
